O GIVE THANKS UNTO THE LORD FOR HE IS GOOD

THANKSGIVING - 1963

During the tense days of the last war many of our Hollywood stars, both men and women, gave generously of their time and talent to assist and to entertain our servicement here and abroad. We know, for one, that Elsa Lanchester, British-born actress, frequently gave informal parties for several servicemen in her Los Angeles apartment. As each of her guests was about to leave, she asked him to write his name and address in her Servicemen's Book, as she called it. Toward the end of each party this charming lady of the screen would address her guests in a tone that showed unquestioning trust in God. She assured them: "I promise each one of you who will write his name in my book that I will pray constantly for your safe return. God will watch over you."
As the months rolled into years, a number of these soldiers, sailors, and marines returned. Many made a point to stop and say sincerely, "Thank you, Miss Lanchester," before they took train for home. After their departure the actress would take out her Servicemen's Book, find the name of the one who had returned safe, and check it by writing beneath the boy's name the words "Thank you, God".

She wanted to thank God for each safe return. She did it thoroughly and efficiently. She wanted to be sure that thanks was rendered in every case. She even wrote it down.
It would be a fine idea for everyone of us to have a book like that, a book in which we could write beside each blessing, "Thank you, God".
Such a procedure may seem prosaic and mechanical, yet it is much better than the opposite - never thanking God at all. If the plan would help us to be more grateful - let's try it. Try writing down the gifts God has bestowed on you today, yesterday, all last year. And then say "Thank you, God" or write it down beside each benefit for which you should be grateful. Let us make a start.

Father Chevrier.

This weekend we observe Thanksgiving, a symbol in one sense that our French English cultural inheritance is not a simple one, for this tradition originates from the South.
Thanksgiving comes to us from the year 1621 when the Pilgrim Fathers, thankful for the ingathering of their first harvest with its store of wild turkeys and deer, were celebrating the arrival of the British ship Fortune with provisions to rescue them from starvation. Their Chronicler, Governor Bradford, wrote in his journal,
"Our fathers were Englishmen which came over this great ocean, and were ready to perish in this wilderness; but they cried unto the Lord and he heared their voice, and looked upon their adversity. Let them therefore praise the Lord, because he is good, and his mercies endure for ever."
How different is our situation today! And yet in some respects there are similarities. We, unlike them, are surrounded by prosperity and plenty, famine and poverty are strangers to our way of life, but like them we are threatened on every side. Danger, confusion, and unrest mark the age in which we live. Across the placid facade of comfortable suburban life there fall the dark menacing shadows of racial tension, hunger, and the threat of atomic genocide. From the world beyond - a world of agonising change and conflict - there comes the ever-present threat of an end to our way of life, and indeed of all life on this planet. The Pilgrims facing hostile tribes, famine and pestilence knew and saw these enemies. Ours, though not less real, are harder to recognize and know. Furthermore their solution demands not only courage and faith, but also a change in man himself if he is to bring peace and love to a troubled world. Yet despite the extreme dangers we face, and the complex problems with which they are linked, some progress is visible. We rejoice on this Thanksgiving that the horror of man's self destruction has begun to recede, and that such influence for good as the movement for Church unity and the continued efforts of the U.N. are bringing hope to mankind.
Ought we not, therefore, to gather in thanksgiving to Almightly God for his goodness and mercy, and pledge ourselves again in the eternal struggle for truth, justice, peace and love, that we may bring these things to bear upon our community problems, and also in our homes and in the world beyond.

Rev. C. Dawkins

20% INCREASE IN TAXES – WHY?

The Senior Administrator drew up and recommended the 1962 budget, later approved by the Board of Administrators. As a result, an unrealistic mill rate of 45 was struck. This budget predicted a $210,000 surplus, but we actually had a deficit of $82,000.

A $290,000 error : 20% increase in taxes.

DEVELOPMENT SLOWDOWN – WHY?

National Average: Permits value down 12%
St. Albert : Permits value down 7%

This indicates that St. Albert is in a favorable position in comparison to the rest of the country.

HIGH WATER RATES – WHY?

The Secretary Manager's estimate of deficits provided for water works in 1962 was $35,300. Your council's budget estimate was only $32,000. It appears that the actual deficit will be reduced by another five to ten thousand dollars.

PARKLAND & RECREATION PROGRAMME – WHY NOT?

We had 5 years to decide what to do with the $22,000 Government grant. Why was no action taken previous to this year when the borrowing power of the town was greater? Failure to look after the debts created in 1962 has reduced your town's borrowing power. Do you wish more debt?

EXCESSIVE USE OF PROFESSIONAL SERVICE – WHY?

This council had no alternative but to seek professional advice to deal with the many problems that were of a very complex nature.

Since the change in status of our town, it has been necessary to secure information requested by the Provincial Government before it could consider giving us any financial assistance.

Legal action is being taken by the St. Albert Development Co. over alleged failure by the former administration to comply with an agreement entered into.

The useless petition, which caused delay of financial dealings with the provincial Government, also cost a lot of money.

The town has been subjected to three audits costing in excess of $10,000 since the resignation of the previous town manager.

POOR REPUTATION OF THE TOWN – WHY?

Press relations have never been better. A 15 minute question period has been provided after each meeting for the reporters. Furthermore the minutes of each meeting are made available to them.

TOWN ENGINEER – WHEN?

It was not until early July that your town was aware as to whether there would be a construction program of any significance. There was no point in hiring a town engineer prior to knowing our direction in construction. When this was known, a committee was set up to seek applications for a qualified man to fill this position. The committee felt that none of the applicants was acceptable for this post. The committee is now seeking additional applications.

ELECTION RALLY

It is a good idea of the St. Albert & District Chamber of Commerce to promote an election rally during the weeks before the town election, where the citizens of St. Albert have an opportunity to see and hear those candidates who are running for Council. Such a rally took place on Monday night, October 7th, at the St. Albert Community Hall, where about 140 residents heard the five candidates who are running for Council. Mr. Lorne Campbell, president of the St. Albert Junior Chamber of Commerce, who was chairman of this meeting did his job most effectively. Mr. Dick McGee, president of the St. Albert & District Chamber of Commerce, introduced the candidates to the audience.

Dick Fowler, a newcomer in the local civic politics, reminded the audience that lower taxes and a swimming pool at the same time would be impossible because of the town's financial situation. He suggested that a town can only run smoothly if there is solid town administration. He assured that he will do his very best on behalf of the citizens of St. Albert if he is elected. "I believe", he said, "that the Council should work as a management team."

Gordon Parkes, the previous manager of the New Town of St. Albert, gave a resume of the history of St. Albert, and mentioned the difficulties at present in our town. He stressed that we must have residential, commercial and industrial development to keep our taxes as low as possible. He urged that the Recreation Board has to fulfil their duty as it was originally intended. He explained he was running for Councillor because, "I like the community, I have given so many years to this town, maybe I have even dreamed, but I'd like to come back to serve our community again. And I think that my experience can assist the Council."

Dennis Heffring, also a newcomer in civic politics, he brought the accent on town business as being a limited company with shareholders, in this case the town and her residents. "We all are interested in this town because we are living here with our families and we want to live without fear that our taxes will rise." He stated that the cost of living in our town has gone up about 20%. "Your business is the town, lots of money was spent in the past. We should not look on the past, but look forward. At the moment we are a 'satellite town'. We should become independent, managing our own affairs and looking for our own industry."

Ed Powell, Councillor of the Town of St. Albert, answered the questions brought up by the St. Albert Voters' Association in last week's Gazette. He explained that the Council of the Town of St. Albert had to start with a deficit of $82,000. in 1962, from the previous administration. "We have done what we could do to keep the mill rate as low as possible, but we were bonded by suggestions and demands by the Department of Municipal Affairs." The slowdown in residential development was influenced by the 11% sales tax, but nevertheless, more building lots would be unwise as at the moment there are in our town 60 empty houses and about 220 lots open. The water system deficit will be reduced by about $10,000., probably within 4 or 5 months. "We created a Recreation By-Law, with a Recreation Board. I am in favor of a swimming pool, but we cannot realize this at the moment." The $22,000. Recreation Grant will not be lost for the town, because Council will make a decision very shortly. Previous administration has made it very hard to know the real picture of St. Albert's financial situation.

Alex Sollanych, running for the St. Albert Voter's Association, explained that he was very much interested in the town of St. Albert as a resident taxpayer. "As I am interested in all kinds of community affairs, the 20% increase in taxes has worried me. I feel that an independent voice in Council is very important. The present council does not have positive plans for parkland and recreation, which is so urgently needed for our town. If elected, I would assure you that I will work for sound administration, with firm policies, and that public business would be aired at public meetings."

All candidates stressed firmly that our town needs, as soon as possible, all kinds of industry to lessen the burden of taxes.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 and everybody present was invited for coffee and doughnuts, courtesy of the St. Albert & District Chamber of Commerce.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday morning, September 29, was a red letter day for the St. Albert Baptist Church. After prayer, and singing a most impressive ceremony took place, namely the dedication of five voluntary workers who will be responsible for the Sunday School.

Children of pre-school and six years of age will have Mrs. Hart as their teacher. The Primary Department, the 7-8 year olds willbe taught by Mrs. Henry. The Junior class, the 9-11 year olds, will again be under the direction of Mrs. Joly. Mr. Millman will be in charge of the boys 12 years and older.

All these classes meet every Sunday at the same time as the church service. The teachers were cautioned by Mr. Joly that there would be times when they would wonder if their efforts were accomplishing anything. At such times they must remember that they are only sowing the seed, and in this they were to be faithful.

The following children then received prizes for good attendance: Eleanor Fulmore, Daryl Fulmore, Teresa Millman, Tommy Millman and Sandra Millman.

The Mission Band, ages 5-8 will meet every Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hopkins, 8 Balmoral Drive.

Friday evenings at 6:45, the Explorer Girls Group will meet at Mrs. Fulmore's, 4 Sable Crescent.

The Senior boys will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of Rev. Joly, 27 Sunset Blvd.

Everyone is looking forward to a fine year. If you are seeking a church to worship in, we are anxious to welcome you. Our services are at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Do you feel the need of companionship? The ladies of the church meet in different homes the third Tuesday of every month as a Mission Circle. Come and join them.

The Evening Service at 7:30 p.m. marked the beginning of the winter's evening series. These services are held on the first Sunday of each month and emphasize congregational singing. Mrs. Hole was at the organ and Mr. Roy Gilley led the congregational singing and gave two solos. Dr. Schwarz began his winter series on Christian Family Living.

A coffee and fellowship hour followed the service which was attended by some 100 persons. The topic for next month will be "Courting in the Christian Context" (the initial step in the establishment of a family.)

HIGHSCHOOL GRADUATION

On October 4, 1963, the Graduating Class of St. Albert High School were honoured by the Staff and Student body. The Graduates, their Escorts, parents and friends, attended a banquet held in the new Bonaventure Hotel. Graduating Exercises were held in the High School Auditorium, which was tastefully decorated with autumn foliage and flowers. Mr. Wm. Soprovich, Principal of St. Albert High School, was chairman for the program.
At the conclusion of the formal Exercises, a Reception was held for the Graduates and Guests. John Pasieka's "Combo-Ettes" provided music for the dance which followed, adding to the enjoyment of the 300 persons attending. Members of the Student's Union served a delicious lunch at the midnight hour, Jeanne Houle being the capable convenor.
Students graduating were: Lela Bird, Dennis Brothan, Anne Marie Curial, Cynthia DeLuca, Ann Gallagher, Ronald Gatien, Jadwiga Gorka, Merrilyn Hayes, Raymond Houle, Denise Joyal, Patricia Kennedy, William Kinshella, Rita Leonard, Josephine Lowes, Raymond Moran, Lawrence Petherbridge, Robert Richardson, Bernhard Schroeder, Charlotte Victoor.

VALEDICTORY By Bernhard Schroeder

It is an honour for me to present the "Valedictory" on behalf of the graduating class of '63. We, the Graduates, are becoming increasingly aware of the intense difference between High School life and post High School life. The difference is not only one of surroundings or routine.
Only three short months ago we completed a comprehensive set of Departmental examinations. Since that time, many of us have decided to continue our education at either University or Technical school, while others have found satisfying and rewarding vocations. Now, we no longer receive the personal attention and discipline which our teachers concerningly gave us - we must make a great transition into real life. We find that we are suddenly being considered as adults. We have become part of the modern world, with our major prerequisite being a sound High School environment.
I am sure that in the future we will all think of our High School days with some nostalgia. St. Albert High School was the scene of varied classes where we developed and gained interests; it is the place where we found excitement and pleasure in sporting activities; here, we met and appreciated our fellow students; and here, we had many student-teacher discussions of great relevance to us in life. These are only some of the memories. Of more importance is the preparation for today's world, which we have received within this building and retained - preparation which is going to serve us as a basis for all of our further learning. Through our parent's and our teacher's guidance, we are now able to visualize our potential, to have a sense of direction and purpose, so that we are able to seize the opportunities given to us by this preliminary education. High School has whetted and developed our character and personality, making our move from youth to adulthood a much simpler and more satisfying one.
As we leave High School, we also leave the Sophomores, whom we have come to regard, within the last two years, as our equals. I know I speak for all the Graduates when I say that our school association with the under-graduates has indeed been one of great enjoyment.
Having said, "Farewell" to the High School, it is now our responsibility to put what we have learned into practice so that, in years to come, our teachers may say with pride, "He, or she, graduated from St. Albert High School".

TRIBUTE TO THE TEACHERS By Ann Gallagher

While saying a final farewell to High School adventures, a Graduate's fondest thoughts turn to those who have helped create them.
Foremost in a treasury of wonderful memories, are recollections of our teachers through whose seemingly untiring efforts this goal of Graduation has become a reality.
An always ready helping-hand is a Divinely instituted quality which reveals its presence in all teachers as they strive to guide their students further along the path begun.
With understanding hearts and self-sacrificing souls, these guardians of the moulding of our characters provide inspiration to all who come under their care.
"The lives they touch, the good they do, shall never know an end, and we are proud to call them, 'Our Teachers, and Our Friends'".

TRIBUTE TO THE PARENTS By Larry Petherbridge

It is an honour for me to address the Parents this memorable evening, on behalf of my fellow Graduates and myself. It must be a frustrating experience trying to get across to a child what is right, or wrong, and why. However, this is the job that befell our parents when we came on the scene eighteen or nineteen years ago.
The first few years must have been a practise session for the last half dozen, because, until a child is about ten or twelve years old, a simple, "Yes" or "No", and sometimes, a good spanking, should be enough to keep him in line. It is about this age, however, that a child thinks he is fairly grown up. Thinking that he is his own boss, he may disregard or argue with his parents many times. Disappointment and heart-break must have frequented those free-wheeling teen-age years when our parents heard us talking of quitting school, coming home at all hours of the morning, and, receiving low marks on Report Cards. They did not give up hope, though, and I wonder where we might have been tonight if our parents had not given us the courage and determination to get through the primary grades and finally, through our twelfth year of school.
Now it is our turn to uphold the principles taught us by our Parents, to repay them by developing into the type of person we want to be, one of whom they will be proud.

CLASS HISTORY By Patricia Kennedy

As we come to this milestone in our educational career, it is pleasant to look back on the past and recall the many steps that have led us to this evening.
Our first exposure to education began in 1951, in the little white school now known as "Father Jan School". Miss Wolniewicz was our first teacher, and of the large class registered on that first day, four of us, Raymond Houle, Rita Leonard, Merrilynn Hayes and I, have tonight reached Graduation.

Grade II under the watchful eye of Sister Poirier saw us develop physically as well as mentally. Our class was in the brick school and we had to trudge up the hill every day.
Mrs. Ferguson steered us through Grade III. This was the year we had the pleasure of acquiring a new classmate, Jadwiga Gorka, who moved to St. Albert and added to the pleasure of our school life.
Lela Bird joined us in Grade IV and this year saw our class divided - some in Miss Ric's room and some in Mrs. Bird's.
In Grade V we began the year with Mrs. Kennedy and completed it with Miss Plackner.
The next year saw an end to our hill climbing, as our Grade VI class was held in the present Mission Park School with Mrs. Wacowich as our teacher.
Mrs. H. Vague led us through our first frightening year of Junior High. Here we had our first taste of Home Economics and Shop taught by Mrs. Gervais and Mr. McCurry.
Grade VIII saw many changes. Our School District left the Sturgeon Division, and, while we were waiting for the completion of Vital Grandin School, our classes were held in the High School, where we were ably taught by Mr. Chaba, Mr. Bessette and Mr. Raboud.
We had our first series of Departmental examinations in Grade IX for which we were very well prepared by Mr. Maloney, Mr. Raboud, and Mr. Bessette. Mr. Wood provided us with many extra-curricular sports, as well as our regular physical education classes.
Next came High School! Here we were joined by Ann Gallagher, Charlotte Victoor, Benny Schroeder and Larry Petherbridge.
Our Grade X and XI teachers were Mrs. Blair, Mr. Kluczny, Mr. Soprovich, Mr. Kalita, Sister Cote, Mrs. Day and Miss Shelene. Grade XI added a new pupil, Cynthia DeLuca to our group.
Our final year brought constant reminders of Departmental Examinations. Mr. Tesolin and Mr. Deutscher joined the Staff to help us attain our goal. Josephine Lowes, Anne Marie Curial, Denise Joyal, Dennis Brothan, Ron Gatien, Bob Richardson, Bill Kinshella and Ray Moran rounded out our group.
Graduation night sees the parting of our paths, but we hope that in the years to come, the friendships that we have made during our school life, will continue in the years to follow.

KATLEEN BOULTER

Once again we welcome Kathleen Boulter as Assistant Director for our forthcoming production, an evening of one act plays.
Kathleen assisted Frank Glenfield last fall in the production "Poppa Is All", and as she learned so much at that time, she is looking forward eagerly to working with Mr. Glenfield again. This time she will have a threefold chance to learn, as she is assisting in all three, totally different plays which will be presented.
For the second year in succession, Kathleen attended the Drama Seminar at Olds this summer. She had the opportunity of co-directing while there and her work was chosen with six others, to be presented to Sir Tyrone Guthrie, the eminent director, who was guest lecturer at the Seminar. Since Kathleen's interest in drama first took hold almost nine years ago, she has spent many fruitful hours taking courses in subjects ranging from creative drama to speech arts techniques and has passed along her knowledge to the rest of the group through workshops.
As Vice-President of the St. Albert on Sturgeon Players, Kathleen gives great assistance to the executive and everyone in the club, and all are grateful for her time spent on their behalf.

DENIS HEFFRING, 21 GROSVENOR BLVD

Mr. Heffring is seeking election to the St. Albert town council because he feels an independent voice is needed in the management of the affairs of this town. Some seeking election have already had a hand in town affairs, and the fact taxes have increased so sharply and St. Albert's financial status is precarious, is evidence that a new approach is needed.

By not being backed by any particular group of organized citizens, two of which are now in existence promoting their candidates, Mr. Heffring can give a voice to all the residents of St. Albert, not just those of one particular political affiliation.

Mr. Heffring does not own land other than his home in the St. Albert area, and has no self interest in seeking a seat on council. He has nothing to gain but is willing to sacrifice his time to give the business experience he has accumulated as co-owner of Central Western Air Freight Ltd. to the benefit of the town as a whole.

The future of St. Albert lies in the hands of town council, and it's important that men of integrity, sound judgment, and with no self interest govern it properly.

THE PARTY LINE

As the Fall Social season gets underway we're all wondering what to wear to what. Husbands firmly maintain that there's nothing wrong with last year's garb - but we know that being last years is enough fault for a most anything. They're so right but still we do want to be lovely to have a great fall start every season.

THEN AND NOW

When Peter Perron opened his first store in St. Albert back in the early 1900's, he gave away souvenir plates. At least one of these plates is still with us. Mr. Angus MacDonald has kept hers all these years and now has more than a pretty piece of china - she has a tangible link with St. Albert's heritage.

The Youville Auxiliary are now selling souvenir plates that depict the Youville Home and on the back give a brief history of the home. The cost of these plates is only $2.00 each. They are a lovely memento of St. Albert, and who knows, someday these too may be of more than sentimental value.

The 'Plate Project' of the Auxiliary will enable them to carry on their work of supplying those welcome extras for the Home residents. The Youville Auxiliary strives to keep the residents happy and active. Support this worthy work and have a lovely souvenir plate in your home. Phone 599-6768

From Our Readers

I am sure that your presentation of the candidates in the coming elections and their platforms will be of great assistance to the voters. There is one question that has not been raised and with your permission I should like to raise it here. The school system laws in Alberta provide that a Separate School System may be formed, either Roman Catholic or Protestant depending on the religious situation in a community, so that the minority's religious position might be respected. Our community has the unusual distinction of having a Protestant Separate School System. If you like, whereas most Separate Schools are formed by concerned Roman Catholics, in St. Albert we have a Separate School System being formed by concerned Protestants. The foundation of the system is Protestantism. The question that I raise at this point is whether the electors who shall vote to place men on the Separate School Board have been told or have asked themselves just what the motives are that prompt the candidates to run, is it to work for the strengthening of the system upon its Portestant foundations or is it something else? One of the candidates claims to be an atheist, where is his integrity in running for an office that presupposes that he is a man of serious Protestant conviction? Our school system has been built through the efforts of many who have acted with courage and conviction.

St. Albert Anglicans Launch Partnership In Gospel Drive

Rev. C. B. Dawkins has been appointed full-time rector of St. Matthew's Anglican Mission in St. Albert. The appointment was announced by Rt. Rev. W. Gerald Burch, Anglican Bishop of Edmonton.

For the past seven months Mr. Dawkins has been priest-in-charge at St. Matthew's as well as assistant priest at Christ Church.

The appointment coincides with the launching of a parish-wide "Partnership in the Gospel" campaign designed to interest newly-arrived Anglicans in St. Albert as well as to promote a long-term building program.

More than 150 Anglican families now live in St. Albert.

Motivation for stewardship, rather than budget building, is emphasized throughout the campaign. Some basic goals of the partnership program include developing a better understanding of Christian stewardship and creating a deeper concern for the whole work of the church.

It is felt members should be encouraged to give greater personal service and that there should be more emphasis in scriptural teaching on the meaning of Christian stewardship.

St. Matthew's partnership executive includes: Eric Jackson, general chairman; Derek Thompson, vice-chairman; Frank Turek, vision chairman; Frank Neil, publicity; Ed Shanley, contact; and Dorothy Pettinger, special events.

At the first general committee meeting the following were appointed to serve under the above chairmen: Mrs. M. B. Nelson, Mrs. Joe Taylor, Mrs. Joe Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Maltby, Ron Coneybeer, M. C. Buckwell, Mel Neidig, J. Baxandall and George Petlinger.
